SATURDAY! 2009 GAZETTE'S GHOULS GONE WILD

The 2009 Gazette's Ghouls Gone Wild Halloween Parade will be bigger, better and scarier than ever! The third annual event will be held Saturday, October 24th in downtown Oklahoma City and begins at 7:00 p.m. The parade route is the same as last year: one mile long, beginning at 11th and Walker and going south to 10th, east to Broadway and south again to 3rd Street. The Flaming Lips will again host their March of 1000 Flaming Skeletons.

50,000 people from all around the region are expected to attend, and there will be more than 100 parade entries, including dancers, bands, arts groups and more! Oklahoma Gazette is also planning an afterparty at the end of the parade in the "Field of Screams." The afterparty will feature live music performances from Stardeath and the White Dwarfs.

MAPS PRESENTATION AT NOVEMBER U.N. SOCIAL

On November 12, the Untitled Artspace on 3rd Street will host the November social. Not only will the Skirvin's John Williams and Nonna's Avis Scaramucci be honored with U.N. Ambassador awards, but Chamber President Roy Williams will be speaking on MAPS 3.

As always, the social will be 5:30 - 7:30 p.m. and free appetizers and a cash bar will be available. See you there!

WHOLE FOODS VS. PUBLIC MARKET

- from the Oklahoma Gazette -

Having a Whole Foods Market in downtown Oklahoma City would be nice.

But some say a long-anticipated arrival of the trendy food outlet doesn't completely answer downtown's need for retail geared both toward supporting new downtown residents and visitors to our city.
